ARROW launches its website

Brussels, 16 April 2009. The ARROW Consortium is delighted to announce the launch of its website which will provide complete information on the project development:

www.arrow-net.eu

With a fresh and clean design, the ARROW website consists of the following sections: About, FAQ, Partners, Links, Resources, Press, Contact and Partners only (reserved area). A Calendar with relevant events for the project and a News column have been added to the website too.

The ARROW project progress will be reflected in this website since it will offer frequent updates on the work done by the different Work Packages of the Consortium. Also, this website will be a valuable reference for Orphan and Out of print works issues.

The launch of the ARROW website coincides with the formal and public presentation of the project logo. This will feature in all sections of the website, and will be the main visual identifier for the project.

Note for editors

ARROW - Accessible Registries of Rights Information and Orphan Works towards the EDL – a consortium of European national libraries, publishers and collective management organisations, also representing writers – working through their main European associations and a number of national organisations – is a targeted project co-funded under the European Commission's eContentplus Programme (see http://ec.europa.eu/information_society/activities/econtentplus/index_en.htm) which seeks to help make digital content in Europe more accessible, usable and exploitable.
